Corporate flags don't tend to follow the same rules for size as national flags and come in many proportions. As a guide see our suggested sizes.

Promotional and Advertising Flags

Flags can form a stylish part of your company's signage and draw the eye to your premises. Business owners have been using flags to attract custom for hundreds of years.

We offer a full design, manufacture, installation and maintenance service for your flag.

Portrait Flags are a great option. They will fly in a lighter breeze than an equivalent landscape flag and usually offer greater scope for artwork design. All have a headband and can be finished in a variety of ways to suit either standard or rotating arm poles. They can also be supplied with our flag extender system (see page 30).

City Dressing

Flags are a great way to theme an event. They provide a visual signature that visitors will identify with bringing movement, height and colour. They can be used with permanent poles but are particularly successful with portable poles so they can be positioned exactly where you want them.

Landscape Flags

are the classic flag format. They are suitable for free flying flags outdoors and will co-ordinate if flown together with national flags. Landscape flags are finished with a headband and D-rings to attach to any standard flagpole.

Flag Extender

An ingenious way to keep your flag flying at all times. Flag Extender is a flexible arm fitted into the flag itself, which holds it on permanent display and allows it to fly in a naturalistic way.

Unlike conventional rotating arms fixed to the top of the pole, Flag Extender is simply hoisted with the flag requiring no special pole and allowing an easy change of the flag.

Flags must be sewn specially to fit Flag Extender and we offer a range of standard sizes, all printed to your artwork and ready to use. Flag Extender is re-usable so no need to buy a new one when your flag is ready for replacement.

Product features:

- Permanent display of your flag
- Compatible with any standard flagpole
- Indoor and outdoor versions
- Improved flag durability
